REHABILITATION NURSING WORKSHOP

April 14 to May 9, 1969
and May 12 to June 6, 1969

DIVISION OF EXTENSION
with the
SCHOOL OF NURSING
UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO

OBJECTIVES

This workshop is designed to assist participants to:

- Gain greater understanding of the role and responsibility of the registered nurse in providing for the rehabilitation nursing aspects of patient care
- Develop the knowledge and skills necessary to assume rehabilitation nursing responsibilities and to care for a person with physical disability or chronic illness

PROGRAM

Miss Dawn E. Marshall, B.Sc.N., M.Sc.N.
Workshop Chairman

The intensive four-week course is offered to registered nurses employed in acute general and chronic illness hospitals, nursing homes, public health agencies and schools of nursing. It exemplifies the scope and role of nursing in a variety of rehabilitation situations and settings. The program includes supervised practice sessions and clinical experience as well as lectures, demonstrations, discussions and tours. There are approximately thirty-five hours of instruction per week.

Each course will be limited to 21 nurses.

One course will be withdrawn if there is insufficient enrolment.

No credit will be given for this course, nor will any certificate be awarded.

Examples of the various aspects of study are:

- Neuroanatomy and physiology
- Motor and sensory problems
- Physical, social and psychological needs of persons with long-term illness
- Posture and body mechanics
- Problems of inactivity and prolonged bed rest
- Self-care and mobilization
- Therapeutic exercise
- Improvised equipment
- Rehabilitation team
- Government and voluntary agency responsibility in rehabilitation
